Student Senate Passes Prelim Approval On Campus Community Chest Proposal

Preliminary approval of an all-campus community chest was passed by the Student Senate Monday night in its first regular session of the year.

In its only other action of the evening, the Senate approved appointments for all student and student-faculty committees.

Meeting in the Luther Hall Senate room, the senators considered three possible plans before deciding on further study for an all-campus chest.

SB Takes Final Action
Final action will be approved by the student body before any plan can be adopted. Vice president Edna Windhorst, reporting for the Student Welfare Committee, presented three possible plans:

— A drive in conjunction with Wartburg, with all proceeds going to the city.

— A student drive with Waverly, with money being divided between the city and campus.

— An all-campus chest, with all proceeds going to college organizations and charities.

Question Arises
Biggest question raised, in the event a campus community chest plan would be adopted, was whether or not the Student Body President should continue, under the plan being considered, the SB project would continue, either as part of the chest or as a separate drive.

Some representative Olinda Deines opposed incorporation of the project and asked for two separate campus drives.

Posing the question of student interest, junior Senator Ed Schneider stated that he doubted if sufficient interest could be generated in a campaign in conjunction with the Student Body Project.

Meritor For More Research
After considerable debate, Bob Vogel, senior, moved that further research be done on the third plan. The motion was passed with out opposition.

Under the projected chest plan, the drive would be student-controlled and directed, with all proceeds being divided among campus charities and any other designated charities.

Organizations such as Lutheran Student Council; charities, such as the student memorial fund; and possible non-campus organizations, such as the Bartels Home for the Aged, Waverly, could be included.

Former Chief Gremmels Moves Up On Standard

Robert Gremmels, former All-American TRUMPET editor, has been named acting assistant editor of the Standard, Editor of the All-American TRUMPET in '54-'55, he is attending Capital Seminary.

Word also reached here this week that Jim Hachler, former Wartburg student now enrolled in the School of Journalism at the University of Minnesota, has been named sales manager of the University of Minnesota yearbook, the Gopher. Hachler served as co-business manager of the Fortress last year and was a TRUMPET staff member.

More room means more variety, said Mrs. W. G. Friesling, bookstore manager. "With self-service, our customers can better see what we have in stock."

To Add Greeting Cards
A complete line of high quality greeting cards will soon be added to the list of new items in the bookstore. A display of well-known ballpoint and fountain pens will also be added to the variety of items.

Additional of cosmetics and drugs, bookshelves, an enlarged section of college Indiana pottery, a new assortment of desk lamps, a complete line of the College Outline Series and a prominent brand of stationery and note paper are all included in the extended list of merchandise.

Lutheran Educators To Assemble Here

Lutheran educators attending the conference of the Association of Lutheran College Faculties will convene here next Friday and Saturday, Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. Beginning with registration Friday afternoon, the conference, composed of three sessions, will conclude Saturday afternoon.

Any Lutheran school in the United States or Canada can be a member of the conference; however, colleges in the Midwest are generally best represented. This year plans are being made for an estimated attendance of two hundred and fifty.

'A Symphony Of Fun,' Fund Raising Project, At Knights Gym Sunday

"A Symphony Of Fun" designed to raise money for the Community Concert Series, will be held on the Wartburg campus tomorrow. The first program, from 4:30 until 5:30, is especially for children. Following this a lunch will be served at popular prices in front of Knights Gym. Specialty numbers will be performed in front of the gym during this time. The main concert will be on the stage in Knights Gym starting at 7.

Included among the specialty numbers to be performed during the lunch hour are the Little German Band, composed of Wartburg students; a girls trio, featuring Junior Bernice Schulz and Mary Nissen and sophomore Jan Helms; Bro. Lockers, head of the Waverly Chamber of Commerce, will play the Hammond organ; and Walter Schick will play his musical saw.

The combined forces of the Chamber of Commerce, Rotary Club, Lions Club and Wartburg will serve the lunch. Menu includes hamburgers and hot dogs, 25 cents; coffee and cake, 10 cents; and soft cream, 10 cents.

Light, popular music will be featured at the concert from 7 to 8. Performances are free of charge.

Paulson To Address Thurs. Convocation

Dr. Arthur C. Paulson, professor of English at St. Olaf College, Northfield, Minn., will be convocation speaker next Thursday.

Paulson, editor of the Journal of the Association of Lutheran College Faculties, is also an official of the Lutheran Faculty Conference, which is meeting on the college campus next Friday and Saturday. Dr. Paulson will arrive a day earlier in order to address Wartburg students.

Sign Up For Pics
Undergrads who have not signed up for the bookstore schedule posted in Luther Hall are asked to do so soon, according to John Polz, editor. The schedule will be removed at the end of next week.

Gridders Search For First Win Tonight Knights Lose 14-7 Opener At Platteville

After Suffering Setback In Season's Opener
Jomen Host Westmar In Non-Conference Tilt

By De's Kopitke
TRUMPET Sports Editor

Hoping to get into the win column after last week's 14-7 setback at Platteville, Wartburg's gridders play host to Westmar in a non-conference tilt tonight on Waverly's Municipal Field at 7:30.

Although soundly trounced by Dakota Wesleyan, 31-0, last Saturday, Westmar is expected to be tough. According to scouting reports, it has a better squad than the 31-0 score might indicate.

Compiling a 3-5 record last season, the Westmar aggregation is supposed to be stronger this year. A number of promising freshmen have also brightened Coach Bud Breckman's outfit.

Westmar Uses T

The Westmar offensive play will be run out of a T formation.

Except for two 220-pound tackles, their forward wall compares in size to the Knight front line.

The Jomen's play against Platteville left much to be desired in every phase of play.

Coach Norm Johnson has sent his charges through extensive drills this past week in an attempt to eliminate the weak spots.

Physically, the Knights are in fair shape. Although there have been no serious injuries, minor leg injuries have slowed the team.

Maybe Two New Faces

Sen. Littlejohn, Al Lemberg, Hank Thiemann and Wendy Liebmohr, bulkheads of the Knight defense last week, will be called on to stop the Westmar attack tonight. Bill Bonhoff, speedy half back, will probably carry the brunt of the Knight running at tack.

Although gaining only 40 yards in the air against Platteville, the gaining of quarterback Art Marquardt remains a constant threat to Knight opposition.

Commenting on the team's chances tonight, Coach Johnson said, "We're going to have to show much improvement in our blocking, our tackling and our pass defense if we expect to win. I'm confident that we will show much improvement over last week's play."

Wartburg's opening day jinx held, because its defense didn't. Platteville pushed over the winning TD late in the final period to unknot a 7-7 tie and chalk up a 14-7 decision.

If there's any comfort in statistics, Wartburg outplayed Platteville on the drop sheet despite the 14-7 score.

Pioneers Score First

The Pioneers drew their first blood midway through the first period. Grabbing a wind-blown Knight punt, they drove 40 yards from where halfback Jack Harr plumped over from the cone. George Marquardt kicked the point, making the score 7-0.

Early in the third quarter, the Pioneers pushed to the Wartburg 10, but the Knight defense held and Platteville lost the ball on down.

Knights Even Count

Wartburg broke into the scoring column at the beginning of the final period, culminating a 65-yard march. Marquheim scored from the one and kicked the point to make it an even-up game.

Platteville, in the form of halfback Harr, galloped past numerous Knight defenders in a 65-yard touchdown jaunt. Marquardt's kick split the uprights to complete the scoring.

Castle Tales Proves Outlet For Students With Talent In Writing, Art, Photography

By Shirley Cords
Ever write poetry? Short stories? Humorous essays? Ever done any proofreading, copywriting, typing or selling ads? Ever want to?

If you have, Wartburg College has thought of you in advance and created Castle Tales.

Castle Tales is the third of the big three in the Wartburg publications trilogy. Paid for by each student when he buys an activity ticket, the literary magazine features the creative literary and artistic efforts of Wartburg students and alumni.

Awarded First Class "excellent" rating by the magazine's official division of the Associated College Press, the magazine is in its seventh year of publication.

Senior Elizabeth Martin is editor this year, assisted by Associate Editor Shirley Cords, senior, and Business Manager Don Oberlander, sophomore. Miss Margaret Wolfe, head of the Journalism Department, and Miss Hilda Fritzsche of the English Department are co-advisors.

"Many changes are being planned for 'Tales' this year," the editor revealed, "but the biggest are probably the change from two issues to one issue per year and the offering of prizes for outstanding work published in the magazine."

Other contemplated changes include a newly designed format, an increase in the number of pages and the addition of several color pages, the latter contributed by the Art Department.

The decision to drop to only one issue this year was made in an effort to reduce a debt of more than three hundred dollars that the publication has acquired during the past several years.

"Prizes totaling $25 are being offered in the fields of poetry, short story, book review, essay, art and photography as an added incentive to students," said Miss Martin.

The English and Art faculties together with Editor Martin will judge the entries.

Need More Contributors
"Tales this year needs more contributors and more staff members," the editor declared. "Students should start work soon, so that when the call for material is issued, they will be ready to respond."

Material submitted for publication in Castle Tales should be typed double-spaced on regular typing paper. Art work can be done in either pen or pencil on white drawing paper. Persons interested in staff or editorial work should contact Miss Martin.

Roever Releases Show Cast

Director Jim Roever, junior, has recently announced the cast for the Old Time Minstrel Show, sponsored by Pi Beta Psi, to be presented on the Wartburg campus the evenings of October 6 and 7.

Taking the role of interlocutor is senior Bob Vogel, backing him up are Edna Mae Hoover, Bob Lantz, sophomores, and Charles Dickson, speech Department head.

Members of the chorus and specialty numbers include sophomores Dave Linkley, Dick Brandt and John Werner; freshman Van Pelt; juniors Dennis Larson, Bob Bernat, Melvin Rado, Tom Rogers, Marvin Remmers and Bob Geisler; and seniors Wayne Landkrabe and Bill Wiedersheim.

The Minstrel Show will be presented in the old time style with Black Face men, Irish tenors, lampshades and novelty numbers. The traditional minstrel consisted of three parts: the First Part, the Old, and the Afterpiece. Roever's group will be presenting only the First Part, most popular of the three.

Both performances will begin at 8:15. Admission will be adults, 50 cents; and children, 25 cents.

Caf Schedule Changed For Faculty Conference

Cafeteria serving schedule will be altered Friday and Saturday to accommodate the Lutheran College Faculties Conference meeting here.

Friday evening both lines will be open from 5 to 5:45, and Saturday both lines will serve from 11:30 until noon.

Students with space available in their rooms on the conference dates who would like to house one of the delegates are asked to contact either Dean of Students Earnest Oppenbach or Dean of Women Florence Herstein. College bed clothing will be provided.

Council Considers Problems

Meeting in full session for the first time this year, the Student Union Council tackled several problems on Union management last Wednesday evening.

Function of the Council is to regulate the social and recreational activities of the Student Union and to maintain and care for the building.

Voting membership consists of six students, four faculty members and one alumnus. Union Director Ray Norheim is chairman.

Hear Equipment Report
Included in a report on equipment and furnishings of the building was the exchange of the TV set and tables for the game room. During the evening their cost, as well as the need for another table, was discussed.

Norheim: A committee, consisting of Jackie Reents, senior, Stan Vogel, sophomore, and Herb Bern, junior, was appointed to purchase games for the game room.

Conduct in the lounges was discussed, and it was decided that a set of rules be drawn up. Juniors Carolyn Adix and Earl Eberhardt and senior Walt Filgren were chosen to act on this matter.

Caf Open to Wartburgers
It was pointed out that the small dining room in the cafeteria is available exclusively to Wartburg people in groups of forty or fifty during lunch or dinner except on Sunday noons.

Opening the problem at an earlier hour and the problem of the exit lights were also discussed. Members also decided that the Council should approve a list of magazines to be purchased for the lounge.
